

Counseling and Outreach Services:

School counseling, psychological, and social services are activities that focus on cognitive, emotional, behavioral, and social needs of individuals, groups, and families. They are designed to prevent and address problems, facilitate positive learning and behavior, and enhance healthy development.

The purpose of such services is designed to minimize barriers to student learning and promote students' healthy psychosocial development, school counseling, psychological, and social services:

- provide direct services and instruction to individuals and groups
- develop systems, programs, services, and resources that address school populations
- connect school and community services

These services are offered either through the Outreach program in each school or as a related service to special needs students.
