Speech and Language Services

Speech and language services are available to students from Pre-K through grade 12 and are designed to address speech disorders such as articulation, phonology, fluency, voice; or, language disorders in the areas of morphology, syntax, semantics and/or pragmatics/discourse which adversely affect a student's educational performance. Such services are dependent on a determination of eligibility by the Child Study Team and are guided by the goals and objectives in the student's Individualized Education Plan.
