Good Morning, Hawthorne School! This is _____ and _____ from Ms. Lindner's Class with a few words of wisdom.

On Monday, we will be honoring Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. When Martin Luther King was growing up, he listened to his father preach. His words made Martin feel good. Martin Luther King then said,

"When I grow up, I'm going to get big words, too."

Martin Luther King grew up to use his powerful words to make great changes in the world. Here at Hawthorne School, we believe we can use our BIG words too.

We can say nice things to each other.

We can use our words to solve problems.

We can talk it out.

We can tell the truth.

We can show respect.

We can stand up for each other.

We can encourage each other.

We can congratulate each other.

We can stick together.

We can include everyone and not leave anyone out.

We can STOP bullying.

We can show compassion and empathy.

We can help one another.

At Hawthorne School, we care about each other like Martin Luther King said we should do. Martin Luther King had a big dream. One day, he gave a speech about his dream and we need to follow that dream. His BIG words are alive for us today.

So, today and everyday, use your BIG words to be great. Use your BIG words to do great things. With something to think about, this is Mostab and Joel and Robbie make it a great day or not, the choice is yours.
